STATE OF MAINE.

LAND OFFICE,
BANGOR, May 1, 1858.

IN the discharge of my duty as "Agent to superintend and manage the sale and settlement of the Public Lands" of the State, the following notice is hereby given of the Terms and Conditions of Sale:

In the Revised Statutes of Maine, Chapter 5 may be found all the provisions of law in relation to

The Sale of Lands for Settlement.

Sec 23. Out of townships located and designated for settlement, the Land Agent shall, from time to time, select, not exceeding ten in a year, to be offered for sale in lots for settlement; and publish a list of them and of the townships offered for sale and settlement in former years, in which lands still remain for sale, in some paper in each county in the State in which any paper is published once a week for three months, within six months after the selection is so made, with the substance of so much of this chapter as relates to the terms and conditions of the sale and settlement of such lands.

Sec 24. In townships so selected, in which suitable roads have not been located, the Land Agent shall cause such roads to be located as the public interest and the accommodation of the future settlement require.

Sec 25. The price of the settling lots shall be fifty cents per acre, for which the purchaser shall give three notes, payable in one, two and three years in labor on the roads in said township, under the direction of the Land Agent. The Land Agent shall thereupon give him a certificate, stating that he has become a purchaser of the lot or lots therein described, and that he will be entitled to a deed thereof, when he complies with the requirements of law. The certificate of the person appointed by the Land Agent to superintend the laying out of the labor on the roads, shall be evidence of the payment of the notes.—Only one lot, not exceeding two hundred acres, shall be granted to the same person.

Sec 26. Beside the payment of the notes, every such purchaser shall be required, within two years from the date of his certificate, to establish his residence on his lot, and within four years from such date to clear, on each lot, not less than fifteen acres, ten at least of which shall be well laid down to grass, and to build a comfortable dwelling house on it.

Sec 27. If the purchaser fails to perform any of the duties required of him, or to pay his notes, he forfeits all right to the land, and the Land Agent may dispose of it to another person.

Sec 28. The Land Agent shall appoint some suitable person or persons in the vicinity to superintend the location of settlers, the payment of their road labor, and the performance of their several duties.

Sec 29. Whoever purchases a lot of wild land of the State, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, and complies with the condition of purchase, may hold it with the improvements thereon free from attachment and levy on execution, while he remains in actual possession thereof. The value so exempted shall not exceed one thousand dollars, to be set off to the owner in such portions of the lot as he directs, by the appraisers appointed to levy an execution, the same as real estate is set off and appraised on execution.

Sec 30. On the decease of such purchaser, such lot and the improvements shall descend to his children, subject to his widow's right of dower, and shall not be liable to be sold for the payment of his debts, except in case his other property is not sufficient for the payment thereof; and in that case, his children shall have the occupancy and improvement thereof, subject to the widow's dower, until the youngest surviving child attains the age of eighteen years. The remainder of the estate, after the life estate of the widow and after the youngest surviving child attains such age, may be sold as other estates of deceased persons for the payment of such debts as the other estate of the deceased is not sufficient to pay. If he dies without issue, such lot shall descend and be disposed of as any other property.

Sec. 31. No such purchaser, having a wife, shall convey his said lot by deed, unless his wife joins therein, and acknowledges it to be her free act and deed, before a proper magistrate.

Sec 32. The Land Agent may sell at public or private sale for such price as he considers fair and for the interest of the State all tracts of land owned by the State on islands or in incorporated towns.

Under the provisions of this law, there have been already located and designated for settlement, and by former Land Agents selected and published for sale, the following townships, viz:

Township	Acres unsold.	Township	Acres unsold.
H, R. 1,	8,747	9, R. 4,	21,812
B, R. 1,	10,009	13, R. 4,	22,390

15, R. 3,	23,040	11, R. 6,	2,484
4, R. 4,	22,157	14, R. 6,	1,613

In addition to the foregoing, there were located and designated for settlement, by a Resolve of the last Legislature, the following townships, viz:—Letter G., 6, 11, L. and M., R. 2; East half of 2, R. 5; and 5, R. 3; all west from the east line of the State.

These townships will be better and ready for the market, as fast as the wants of settlers shall require. The field notes and plans of all the townships which have been lotted for settlement, are in the Land Office, open for inspection, where all information within the means of the Agent, to assist individuals and companies [illegible] intended by the Legislature for actual settlers, will be cheerfully given.

Otis' Lightning Rods.

The only Patent which affords absolute Protection against Lightning, as demonstrated by science and experience.

This Rod has been extensively used thro' the Southern & Western States, West Indies and the Canadas, since 1851, and though it has been struck in hundreds of instances, it has never failed to protect.

The great amount of damage done recently by lightning has excited attention, as it should, to the protection of buildings by the use of Lightning Conductors. It is all important that the rod used should be one that will give protection, and in rodding buildings it should be done by one having experience in the business.

Mr. Reed, former partner of Mr. P. M. Kimball, now proprietor of the patent for Penobscot Co., has returned to this city to commence business for the coming season. Having had large experience, he assures the public that all his work of this kind will be done in a thorough, neat, and scientific manner.

Samples of this Rod, and certificates of its merits from many of the most eminently scientific men in the country, may be seen at D. M. HOWARD'S Store, on Exchange street, No. 15; and at Dodge's Hotel, Harlow st., and at the office of the Penobscot Mutual Fire Insurance Co., Granite Block, East Market Square, Bangor.

Republican Nomination.

FOR GOVERNOR,

LOT M. MORRILL.

The Political Revolution at the North.

The following retrospect of the political history of New England during the past five years, and of the remarkable changes which have taken place during that time, applies with nearly equal force to the whole North.

It presents, in a most forcible manner, the radical revolution in the minds of the people, and indicates unmistakably that there are deep seated and permanent causes for that revolution. He that believes this revolution is but for a day is a superficial observer. It has resulted from a long-growing and deliberate conviction in the minds of the people that the mis-named "democratic" party is but the instrument and tool of the enemies of free labor. They have seen that through its organization the "democratic" party has been and will continue to be used to sustain and extend the institution of slavery,—not only by its actual encroachments upon the territories and the rights of freedom, but worse than all, by controlling the Judiciary so as to obtain false and despotic constructions of the Constitution, overthrowing all the doctrines of freedom held and acted upon by the fathers. Perceiving this complete and hopeless demoralization of a party which abuses and outrages the name of "democratic," the people of the free North have abandoned it once and forever. Wherever it had strength at the North the revolution has either been completed or is now going on. It is a revolution, which cannot go backwards as a whole, but, with occasional drawbacks, must finally embrace every free State.

In 1853, there were in the Senate from New England, the following Democrats—Hamlin of Maine, Norris and Atherton of New Hampshire, Allen and James of Rhode Island, and Toucey of Connecticut. The Whigs had only four Senators from New England, and there was one free soil Senator from Massachusetts.

But a change has come over the prospect. The deliberative revival of the slavery agitation by the Pierce administration and its friends, not only prevented the increase of Democratic strength, but turned the strength that was, to weakness. The effect was especially visible in the loss of Democratic Senators in New England. First, Mr. Fessenden was chosen in Maine, which chance never could have been effected but for the pro-slavery position of the Democracy. Then followed the election of two anti Democratic Senators from New Hampshire, Mr. Hale and Mr. Bell. In 1857, Gen. James, one of the Democratic Senators from Rhode Island, lost his seat, and was succeeded by Mr. Simmons, formerly one of the leading Whigs of that State, and now a Republican. The same year Mr. Toucey of Connecticut was defeated, and now, Mr. Allen of Rhode Island has been served in the same manner. Thus, only four years after the introduction of the Nebraska bill, six opposition Senators have been elected, in New England, to succeed six Democrats. Nor was that all. Mr. Hamlin of Maine, a Democrat, was forced to leave his party in consequence of its pro slavery sentiments and conduct, and for so doing he was elected Governor of his State by twenty thousand majority, and re-elected to the Senate. Had he voted for the Nebraska bill, he would now have been as completely at the bottom of the barrel as Hibbard or McDonald. Gen. Wilson was elected to the Senate by the Legislature of Massachusetts. New Hampshire has just returned Senator Hale, and Maine will do the same in the case of Senator Fessenden, the next winter. When the Senate of 1859 shall come into existence nine months hence, it will not contain one Democratic member from New England, though it had six such Senators only six years before.

In the matter of Congressional Representatives, the change has been as remarkable as that which has happened with Senators. Of the 29 Representatives from New England, 16 were Democrats in the Congress of 1853-5. Now there are but two Democratic Representatives from New England, and they owe their seats to the senseless dissensions of the opposition in two Connecticut districts.

The popular vote of New England in 1852, showed a respectable Democratic plurality, Gen. Pierce having about 9000 more votes than Gen. Scott. Four of the States supported the Democratic candidate, and gave him 23 of the 41 electoral votes of New England. In 1856, the Democratic candidate did not receive one electoral vote in New England, and the Republican candidate was about 145,000 ahead of the candidate of the Democracy!

These changes are of so extraordinary a character that they cannot fail to attract the attention of the most careless observer. We may be told that New England is a fanatical section, that her people are dominated by the clergy, who are all opposed to Democracy, and that she goes blindly against Democratic principles. Now, admitting that New England, which has done and is doing something to promote the cause of education, which opens the way to intelligence, and Democracy, has always professed to have for its sole support the intelligence of the people; admitting, we say, that New England is a stupid country, and inhabited by a race incapable of reasoning, and that such being the facts we must attribute the opposition now made here to the ruling party to the notion how happens it that this same New England has often supported the party to which she is now opposed? In 1836 and 1852 the majority of her electoral votes were given for Democratic candidates. In 1818 and 1840, two of her States voted democratically. Even in 1848, the New England Democratic vote was heavy; Massachusetts, with only 130,000 inhabitants, giving about 12,000 more votes for Mr. Van Buren than she gave for Mr. Buchanan in 1856, though her population had increased in the interval nearly half a million. New Hampshire gave a larger majority for Mr. Van Buren in 1840 than she gave for Col. Fremont in 1856. Maine, which went against Mr. Buchanan by a plurality of 28,000, was lost to Mr. Van Buren by only 400 plurality. As we have seen, New England has sometimes sent half of her Senators, and more than half of her Representatives to the Democratic side in Congress, circumstances over which the Democracy have done New England no honor to boast not a little. Such being the facts, what becomes of the talk about New England's "fanaticism," "blindness," "federalism, subserviency to the clergy," and the rest of the stuff that has been brought forward to account for her political course since the commencement of 1854? Certainly she has not become more "fanatical" than she was in 1836, nor is a whole people likely to lose their mental sight in the space of four or five years.—The simple fact is, that New England is only a little ahead of most of the Union, and what has happened there has happened almost as completely in New York and the North-west; and the change will be completed in the nation two years hence.

In the Union of July 16th, we are charged with inserting an advertisement for two dollars, when the proper price should have been eight dollars, and by so doing violating the pledges to the publishers Convention.

Now, the Union's whole article is false from beginning to end, and the editor of that paper knew it when he asserted the article; and what his motive was for knowingly writing a deliberate falsehood, we leave the public to decide.

In the first place, the article alluded to was not an advertisement, but a call for a political convention, which are not charged for at all, and are only paid for at the option of the persons inserting the same. But as the editor of the Union sees fit to consider calls for political conventions as advertisements, will he be kind enough to inform the public how much he charged for inserting the call for the Penobscot County Democratic Convention, and let them see if he lives up to the contract, as he understands it?

In the second place, even if it was an advertisement, we did not agree to insert it any given number of times, nor in any particular place, but merely to insert it to the amount of two dollars; and this the editor of the Union knew, for he had an interview with us upon the subject.

In the third place, the price of the article in question, as a special notice all the time, at our advertised rates, allowing that it should be charged for, would only be six dollars and fifty cents, and not eight as he states. But for this error, we do not think the editor of the Union is to be blamed, as, judging from what we have seen and know, it is very much nearer than calculations are usually made in that office, but as Horace Greeley remarked, referring to Bennett of the Herald, "Thank God this is a free country, and you cannot oblige a man to use common sense, unless he has it."

But as the editor of the Union is fond of answering questions, will he be kind enough to state how he happened to insert a Common Advertisement for eight dollars, which according to any published terms amounted to eleven dollars? And he think he was carrying out his "pledged faith and honor to all other papers in so doing," or did he take what he could make the advertiser pay as appears to be his usual custom?

The Union should be the last paper to charge upon another violation of faith. A paper that has been continued from the first date down to the present time without regard to faith, honor, or even common decency—that has taken job work for less than half the ordinary prices, without even an excuse for so doing, should be slow to accuse another. When it sees the mote in another's eye, would it not be well to look a little after the beam in its own.

The Boston Courier in alluding to the opening contest in Illinois between Douglas and Lincoln says that the former of these gentlemen "might render sophistry agreeable to a not unwilling crowd." The Courier itself with its parlor parade of polite learning and its savage arrogance which might have been acquired in a slaughter house, affords a notable example of the effect of an agreeable sophistry to a not unwilling mind. In the manly days of the first Buckingham, before the ... its moving tent ... many days' marches nearer Rome," the Courier was the Webster of the dailies. But Webster is dead and Buckingham is out of sight of the great ... The name of the Courier yet lives.

MYSTERY OF A SUPPOSED MURDER.—The Postmaster of Portland has received a letter from Mr. Moses ..., Coroner at Onarga, Ill., inquiring whether a man named D. J. Stanley ever resided in that city. He says that the body of Stanley was found under circumstances which leave no doubt that he was murdered some time in October last, and that one William F. ..., a resident of the place committed the deed. The latter has been arrested, and confessed that he killed him, but that he did it unintentionally. It is supposed that Mr. Stanley was a native of Portland.

SHIPWRECK. Bark Trovatore, of Searsport, Carver, from New York for Buenos Ayres, is reported totally lost at Maldonado, (a small harbor on the North side of the entrance to the river Plata,) where she had put in for a harbor. The Trovatore was 318 tons, built in Searsport in 1856.

BURIED ALIVE.—On Friday the 23d ultimo, while two men by the names of Bush and Richmond were engaged in digging a well at considerable depth in Ann Arbor, Mich., the curbing gave way from the pressure of the surrounding earth and suddenly buried them to the depth of about twenty feet. So soon as it was known that they were thus entombed alive, the excitement in the vicinity became intense, and from every quarter the people rushed to the rescue. The first thing to be done was to remove ... of the old curb and sink a larger one for the protection of the laborers engaged in removing the dirt. This was accomplished at great personal risk, as the sides of the pit were entirely unsecured. It was, however, done; a large curb was put in, and the work of sinking it down to the buried men prosecuted vigorously. One of them had been caught nearly erect, the other in a sitting posture. Every sound from above was audible to them while no intimation of their existence reached their friends above. Darkness made no impression in the work, but relays of men succeeded each other ... at length, after twenty six hours of toil the first man was taken out almost uninjured, though exhausted by his close confinement. Some time longer was consumed in reaching the second, in consequence of his position, but he too was rescued, and thus an affair of ... day was richly rewarded.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

RE-NOMINATION OF MR. FOSTER. Hon. Stephen C. Foster was re-nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Sixth District at the District Convention at Columbia on Friday last. His election is sure.

MR. WILDER'S CONCERT. A GRAND AFFAIR. Our citizens have been informed by advertisement that a Grand Juvenile Concert will be given at Norombega Hall to-morrow, Tuesday evening, under direction of that efficient and popular teacher, Mr Solon Wilder. We desire to call more particular attention to this announcement, and to express a hope that there will be a full house on the occasion. It will be by far the most extensive and interesting entertainment of the kind ever produced in Bangor, or in the State. Nearly 250 children have been patiently and assiduously trained by Mr. Wilder, to appear and take part in an original musical compilation of great merit, well adapted to the occasion and to the powers of the youthful performers. The beauties of the floral kingdom will also be brought under contribution, to grace the festival.

Twenty-five persons were united with the First Congregational Church, in this city, yesterday.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT. On Wednesday last our aged fellow citizen Mr. John B. Colbath, fell from the staging of his barn, breaking one thigh and breaking and dislocating one wrist. Dr. Snell was in attendance, and we learn that Mr. C. is as comfortable as can be expected.

The Eastern Argus says that Rev. A. K. P. Small, Baptist, of Auckfield, has received an invitation to the Tremont Temple, Boston, lately occupied by Rev. Mr. Kalloch. He has also received an invitation from the first Baptist Church and Society in Bangor to become their Pastor. We understand that he will probably accept the latter invitation.

The Lewiston Journal states that the damage to the Mill by water was not so large as at first supposed. Probably it will not exceed $5000. The detention will not be over two or three weeks. About 1800 operatives were thrown out of employ by the accident, but 1000 of them will be able to commence work to-day and the remainder soon.

The Lewiston Falls Manufacturing Company are now running all the machinery in their Woolen Mill.

BAPTISM. Rev. Mr. Burgess, of the F. W. Baptist Church in Lewiston, baptized seven persons—five ladies and two gentlemen—last Sabbath afternoon.

SUICIDE IN NORWAY.—Mr. Robinson Hobbs, of Norway, committed suicide by hanging himself in his stable in that village on Tuesday morning. He took a leather strap, fastened it to a stanchion in a stall in the stable, fixed a noose around his neck and then sat down and strangled himself. He was discovered in about half an hour after he had committed the deed but life was extinct. Mr. Hobbs was between 50 and 60 years of age. No cause is assigned for the commission of this rash act.—Argus.

MINING OPERATIONS IN PERRY. On Saturday last we visited the spot where the mining operations are being carried on in Perry. The shaft which Mr. Hill has been engaged in sinking recently has, after extending to the depth of thirty seven feet, reached a formation of coarse sand stone. Mr. Hill confidently expects to find coal at a depth of from 20 to 30 feet below the surface of the formation he has reached. Mr. Hill makes no calculation on failure. Such an event finds no place in his mind. We were much gratified by his undoubted confidence of success, and still more gratified by the intelligence and practical good sense which accompany his enthusiasm. He seems to have an intelligent reason for his strong faith, and the very best evidence of the genuineness of his faith is his work. We confess that he succeeded in imparting his own confidence of success, to a considerable extent to ourself. Mr. Peo, a geologist, employed by the company is engaged in taking a survey of the town.—Eastport Sentinel.

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES OF MAINE STATE SEMINARY. The anniversary exercises of the Seminary take place on Wednesday and Thursday next. The examination occurs on Tuesday.

Wednesday evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock, the United Literary Societies will celebrate their anniversary by exercises at the Free Baptist church. Music by Wright's Band. Oration by William Law Symonds, Esq. of New York city. Poem by E. P. Parker, of Bangor Theological Seminary.

Thursday, exhibition of the students, at the Free Baptist church. The procession will form on the Seminary grounds at 8 o'clock A. M., under the direction of Charles Clark, Esq., Chief Marshal, and W. H. Waldron and Mark Lowell, Esqrs., Assistant Marshals.

The procession will march around David's Mountain to Main street, and down Main street to the church. The body pews in the church will be reserved for the procession, and the galleries for the ladies.

After the exercises at the church, the procession will form again and march to the Seminary. All who have been connected with the Institution are requested to meet at the Seminary at precisely 8 o'clock A. M., and join the procession.—Lewiston Journal.

MASONIC CELEBRATION AT LIVERMORE.—St. John's Day (June 24th) was celebrated by the members of Oriental Star Lodge, Livermore, by the dedication of their new hall and an address. At 10 o'clock a procession was formed by the Grand Marshal, consisting of Canton ... King Hiram Chapter of Lewiston, Oriental Star Lodge, consisting of its members and visiting brethren, and the Grand Lodge of Maine in full clothing, and jewels, &c., and marched to the new Hall, where the dedicatory services were performed by M. W. Robert P. Dunlap acting Grand Master, in a solemn and impressive manner, after which the procession re-formed, and marched in the same order to the Baptist meeting-house, where M. W. Robert P. Dunlap delivered an elegant address, and installed R. W. Walter Foss, one of the Grand Chaplains of the Grand Lodge, and at the close of the services at the church, the procession proceeded to the dinner-table, where two hundred persons partook of the repast, to strengthen the inner man.

After satisfying the cravings of nature, sentiments were drank in the pure beverage from the ... of said refreshing spring that God has furnished to refresh man and beast.—Lewiston Journal.

CHAMPION PASTURES.—A milk dairyman near Boston has his pasturing in four lots, and enumerates the following among other advantages in this division. More stock can be kept by one eighth on a given number of acres, by keeping on each one week at a time; when the beasts are turned into, the grass is fresh and large (and so of each field through the season); the cattle are quiet and peaceable, much more so than when kept uniformly in one lot. This experience makes him a believer in the old saying,—"A change of pasture makes fat calves."

True Story of "the Lord of Burleigh."

The romance of real life is strange enough. It occurs every day, and then nobody thinks about it. A sporting match between a couple of rural lovers is full of this romance, but, transfer it to higher society and how lucid it gleams through, like a fine painting with a judicious coat of varnish bringing its hitherto concealed beauties into notice and admiration.

Henry Cecil, 10th Earl of Exeter, with landed estates to the yearly value of £100,000 and the partial residence of Burgley, with its statues, paintings, and articles of vertu said to be worth £600,000, married a Miss Vernon, from whom owing to her violation of the marriage vows, he was divorced in 1791. Almost heart broken by the disgrace and misfortune, he resolved to retire from high life, and immediately after the divorce betook himself to a retired village in Shropshire, named Bolas, about 120 miles from his own beautiful Burgley. Of that place, however, he was not lord then, not until the death of his uncle in 1793. But he was heir presumptive to the title and estates, and his pecuniary allowance was on a very ample scale, suited to his future position. At this time too he was only plain Mr Henry Cecil.

At Bolas, he actually became a farm servant to rather a rough diamond, one Thomas Hoggins, who besides his farm had a mill in pretty full employ. Cecil's chief work was in this mill, and he labored like any other servant fairly to earn his wages. Part of his business was to leave full bags of flour at the various farm houses in the parish and to take back the empty ones. He had frequently to call at the house of the Rev. Mr Dickinson, the clergyman of Bolas, where according to the custom of the time and place he was always invited to rest in the kitchen and take a mug of ale. He seldom was tempted to enter into conversation, but spoke so well when he did converse, that Mr Dickenson's household gave him the name of "Gentleman Harry." It was not long before this sobriquet and its cause became known to Mr Dickinson who put himself in the way of meeting this strange miller's man, and became so much interested with him that, instead of being asked to rest and refresh himself in the kitchen, "Gentleman Harry" was regularly invited into the good pastor's study, where he used to join him in a draught of home brewed and a pipe of the Nicotian weed. Ere long, Mr Dickenson, who had freely lent him various books, hinted his suspicion that "Gentleman Harry" belonged to a higher position than he occupied. This was confessed with an assurance that there was no disgrace connected with his incognito, and a promise to reveal the particulars of the secret at no distant day.

Thomas Hoggins the miller had one daughter named Sarah, known far and wide as the "Beauty of Bolas." About this time she was scarcely twenty, and through the intervention of a moneyed aunt, had received what we have heard described (in her native Shropshire) as a "bettermost education." That is, she read and wrote correctly, and had some slight acquaintance with French, and played tolerably well on the harpsichord. It came to pass that Miss H. turned a favorable pair of bright blue eyes on "Gentleman Harry." Alas for the romance of the story, the premier pas ... was gone—for he was ... It happened also that he became interested in her so much so that he called at the parsonage one evening to consult with Mr Dickinson—in a word to entreat him to marry them privately, and then to make a clean breast of it, "Gentleman Harry" confessed that he was Mr Henry Cecil, next heir to the Earldom and estates of Exeter. He bound over the clergyman to secrecy not allowing him to disclose his personal secret to Mr Hoggins, nor even to the fair Sarah. It was a difficult matter for the clergyman to obtain the miller's consent to the marriage, which was celebrated on the 30th of October 1791. The happy couple lived on a small farm during the following two years—until Mr Cecil casually learned that the death of his uncle had placed a coronet on his brow and immense wealth at his disposal.

Still concealing the source of his wealth from his wife, Cecil told her that he had determined upon a change of residence. She prepared to accompany him, leaving her native Bolas with regret, for she had been happy there as maid, wife, and mother. She accompanied her husband, and they came at last to Burgley, the beauty of which greatly struck her, as they rode by in their humble conveyance. Her husband told her that it was a show place, and she gladly assented to his invitation to alight and see it. They entered the domain, walked up the broad avenue with its double fringe of stately oaks, went through the gardens and conservatories, and finally made a tour of the mansion. At last returning down the great staircase, into the stately hall, around which were arranged figures in antique armor, and family portraits, from the days of Holbein and Vandyke down to Reynolds, her husband asked her how she liked the place. "Beautiful!" "Oh! Henry, what a paradise to live and die in!" By this time a small crowd of relatives and attendants had collected round them. "Sarah," said he as he kissed her white brow, "this place is yours. I am Earl of Exeter." Then turning to the company he said, "This is the Countess of Exeter."

Hazlett, himself a Shropshire man, (Wem, his birthplace, being near Bolas,) has told this story, and adds that the surprise was too much for the peasant countess. She fainted at the disclosure, and he says her mind never wholly recovered its balance. Her children were a daughter, born at Bolas in 1792, (whose daughter, wedded to Lord Charles Wellesley, will probably be Duchess of Wellington ere she die,) and two sons, the eldest of whom, born in 1795 is the present Marquis. The peasant countess died in 1797, and her disconsolate husband married a third wife in 1800. He was elevated to a marquisate in 1801, and died in 1804.

This is the real story of "The Lord of Burleigh," as related by Mr. Dickinson of Bolas, as lately as 1851, when he died.—Philadelphia Press

The Correspondent of the New York Times says:

"Uncle Sam designs using every means in his power to replenish his empty coffers.—With this view he has thrown into the public market the following small parcels of real estate:

61 million acres in . . . . California,
14 million acres in . . . . Louisiana,
24 million acres in . . . . Nebraska,
3 million acres in . . . . Kansas, making, in round numbers, twelve millions of acres, every acre of which a few years ago would have been readily taken up at the minimum price—$1.25 per acre. But it is now estimated that not over one half of the amount thrown into the market will be sold during the present fiscal year.

SONG.

From the German.

The green leaves rustle far and near,
The flowerets bloom again,
And from the nightingale I hear
The old delicious strain.
O happy he whose heart may feel
The bliss that spring-time can reveal.

Through wood and field I'll gladly go,
And with the wild birds sing,
While thus with happiness I know
The whole wide world doth ring;
But what for songland thousand cares
Since thou art wanting everywhere

O friend beloved! and shall I see
Thy gentle face no more,
Then is the spring-time lost to me,
Its joy, its beauty o'er.
For ah! what pleasure can there be?
What is a spring-time without thee?

... FISH. Our enterprising ... S. Treat & Son, have ... the business of planting fish at their ... establishment, near Red Beach. The result of their operations last year was ... hundreds of thousands of young ... all of which went down the stream to salt water. They expect by their ... this season to produce a number ... that of last year. The young fish which have gone to the salt water, will, when grown, go back to the waters in which they were bred, at spawning time. It is expected that the fish which went down the stream last season, will arrive at maturity and return to the place of their birth in the spring of 1859. The stream leading from the lake to the salt water has been properly 'cleaned out,' so the young fish have a free and easy chance to reach salt water, and when matured can easily ascend it to the lake to deposite their spawn. The result of the experiment is not ... ascertained ... at what ... of each species, male and female, were put into the lake. The fish did not appear to mind the change from salt water to fresh. The salmon are apparently in good condition, and are frequently seen swimming near the surface, and occasionally jumping into the air. It was expected that ... of ... would go down to salt water during the spring freshet, but this has not been done, but may be seen in the lake on any fine day. They do not attempt to go to salt water the first year, but must do so the second year, or they will be stunted ... and never become of good size. Should they go to the sea when one year old they will return to the streams and lakes during the latter part of the same season, and will weigh from ... to four pounds, the experiment having been ... tested in Scotland and France. It is the intention of Messrs. Treat & Son to try the experiment of raising ... having an ... in the lake. Mr. Fall of New York has succeeded in breeding salt water fish in fresh water ponds, and the fish are of a superior size and quality. Should the experiment of Messrs Treat & Son prove successful, of which we think there can be little reasonable doubt, our unproductive streams and lakes may be stocked with valuable fish and become sources of large profit. Too late our people will learn that we might have had plenty of fish in our streams if they had been allowed a fair chance. The only thing remaining to be done is to restock the streams, and see to it that hereafter, their right of way is not obstructed.—Eastport Sentinel.

SWINDLING. There is an individual in Washington D. C. calling himself the secretary of the Homestead Land Co., who offers for $5 the chance of getting a tract of land in Wisconsin, varying from 40 to 120 acres; assures the public that there are no blanks in the distribution, and that the lands are good farming lands, and promises by way of inducement to subscribers a copy of some one of the numerous New York papers. It is an unmitigated swindle.

You can draw water from a deep well and force it to any part of your building at the same time, in case of fire or any other exigency. You can have it with or without the forcing part. Any person with a jack knife can do all the repairing that it will need for twenty years as it will not get out of order and is not liable to freeze up like other Pumps. American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

76 State Street opposite Kilby-st.,
BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of Patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring patents.— There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE
Late Commissioner of Patents."
"August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents."

For Indentures and Agreements, 40 cts a lb.
All State and County Records should always be printed or written on this paper as the chemicals inserted in the pulp act on it, prevents erasure or transfer, but makes it lasting as time.
For Southern climates it is excellent, and much superior to any other, as the moistness of the climate does not destroy it—the properties inserted in the pulp being a preventive. In all the Southern States Cuba the West Indies, and the Central American States, no public records can be kept over 20 years, written on the ordinary paper, while the one and other chemicals inserted in this paper makes it indestructible by the ravages of time. It is also proof against moths rats and other vermin, which infest and destroy all other paper now in use.
The Company have now in operation Mills in Morris County, N. J., of about 300 horse power, and are able to fill all orders for Paper at the shortest notice.
All orders for the Paper must be addressed to A. NICHOLAS, President of the Company, No. 70 Wall street, New York

LINCOLN'S WATER PROOF BLACKING, AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your Feet dry, and you will seldom need a Physician

IS it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and creases; but when this water-proof this is remedied. By the application of this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water
After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of Leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions, and found it easy to make it water-proof, but at the same time extremely injurious to the leather. At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonises with the astringent properties with which leather is tanned. It will not only make leather water proof but it likewise softens the leather, and it will Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years, and a large part of that time have worked in a wet Tannery, with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time. I can therefore in all confidence, recommend it to the public as the best article in the market.

BEE STOCK.

THE LUXURY AND PROFIT OF

HONEY MAKING.

Torrey's Bee Hive.

THE subscriber, having purchased the right of making and selling Davis' Patent Bee Hive for the Counties of Penobscot, Lincoln and Sagadahoc, which has been received with so much favor, and taken the first premiums wherever exhibited, has introduced an improvement into the Bee Hive and is now prepared to make the same in connection with the Davis Platform, and to sell rights to towns and individuals
This Bee Hive, thus improved, is admitted by persons acquainted with the honey-making business to be superior to every thing yet invented for the purpose. It covers all the requisitions for the profitable maintenance of the apiary, by providing for ventilation at all seasons of the year—room for the exercise and feed of the bees—conveniences for the removal of excrement, for the proper separation of the swarms, and generally for the health and comfort of the workers
The boxes used in this Hive for storing honey, are the best adapted in their size, for the market, holding from three to six pounds each.
The subscriber wishes to purchase one hundred swarms of bees in exchange for bee hives and individual rights
For sale, fifty swarms of Bees, with the new Hives
For Hives individual rights, &c., address
